

73 days. With the city under continuous siege, food became scarce and soaring prices led to extreme hardship.

Sometimes perseverance & teamwork keeps you alive. And inspiration & support comes from strangers far away.

there is life, feel the body.
there is death, pain the body.
there is birth, feel the movement.
there is love, witness change.

It feels so good
when we go fast.
We like to feel the breeze go past.

It's everybody's business to interfere when they see cruelty and oppression.
Economic disparity throughout the world can no longer be ignored.

9th Amendment – The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

6th Amendment – In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed; which district shall have been previously ascertained by the law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him/her; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his/her favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his/her defence.

Remember....

Never consent to a search without a warrant! The search warrant must state what is to be searched, what the police are expecting to find and where they are to find it.

'Always observe your right to remain silent when you are arrested and when you are jailed. Everything you say will be used against you! Save your story for the judge.'

File complaints when your rights have been violated. Law enforcers need to understand that there will be consequences to their unjust behaviors.

CopWatch is a volunteer organization of concerned citizens who are fed up with police misconduct, harassment and brutality. We monitor the extensions of law enforcement in order to hold officer's accountable for their behavior in the community. We also seek to educate the general public about their rights so that citizens feel empowered to assert those rights when called upon.

Dear Reader,
My most sincere apologies for the tiny print.
It is my attempt at conserving paper.
Please ask for a large print version if you like,
I'll do my best to supply it. Thanks,

KILL CAPITALISM BEFORE IT KILLS THE PLANET

Your rights are clearly stated in our Constitution... here are some you may have to defend:

1st Amendment – Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

4th Amendment – The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable search and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

WAK AT HOME

being even-handed and going after violent right-wing groups, the FBI actually gave cover aid to the Ku Klux Klan, Minutemen, Nazis, and other racist groups. These groups received substantial funds, information, and protection—and suffered only token FBI harassment—so long as they directed their violence against COINTELPRO targets. They were not subject to serious disruption unless they breached this tacit understanding and attacked established business and political leaders.

• How COINTELPRO Helped Destroy the Movements of the 1960s*

Since COINTELPRO was used mainly against the progressive movements of the 1960s, its impact can be grasped only in the context of the momentous social upheaval which shook the country during those years. All across the United States, Black communities came alive with renewed political struggle. Most major cities experienced sustained, disciplined Black protest and massive ghetto uprisings. Black activists galvanized multi-racial rebellion among GIs, welfare mothers, students, and prisoners. College campuses and high schools erupted in militant protest, against the Vietnam War. A predominantly white New Left, inspired by the Black movement, fought for an end to U.S. intervention abroad and a more humane and cooperative way of life at home. By the late 1960s, a more radical resistance had revived among Chicanos, Puerto Ricans, Asian Americans, and Native Americans. A second wave of broad-based struggle for women's liberation had also emerged, along with significant efforts by lesbians, gay men, and disabled people.

Millions of people in the United States began to reject the dominant ideology and culture. Thousands challenged basic U.S. political and economic institutions. For a brief moment, "the crucial mixture of people's confidence in the government and lack of confidence in themselves...threatened to break down."<sup>1</sup> By the mid-1970s this upheaval had largely subsided. Important progressive activity persisted, mainly on a local level, and much continued. For a brief moment, "the crucial mixture of people's confidence in the government and lack of confidence in themselves...threatened to break down."<sup>1</sup>

1. Infiltration. Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off genuine activists as agents. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents. They planted fake media stories and manipulated other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up calls. They spread disinformation about government agents, and manipulated pseudo-movement groups run by government agents, landlords, school officials and/or strong armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside: The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planned fake media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread disinformation about meetings and events, set up calls. They spread disinformation about government agents, and manipulated pseudo-movement groups run by government agents, landlords, school officials and/or strong armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretense for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminantly enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, "investigative" interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

4. Extrajudicial Force and Violence: The FBI and police harassed, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks—including political assassinations—were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can actually be termed a form of official "terrorism."

Each of these COINTELPRO methods is described and analyzed in detail on pages 41-45. Specific examples from the documentary record of the 1960s are presented there, along with practical suggestions for dealing with similar attacks in the future.
